

RAIDS DEVELOP MONSTER GRAFT OF "VICE TRUST"

will be paid for the fugitives, dead or alive.

The district attorney said today that he did not want to start the murder trials until he had captured Horowitz and Rosenwald, unless he had to.

Until the arrival of Sam Schepps, now on his way here under guard from Hot Springs, Ark., there seems little likelihood of the development of any startling phases in the Rosenthal case. Schepps is expected here Monday, and his arrival he will be arraigned on a charge of murder and placed in the West Side prison along with Rose, Vallon and Webber. Assistant District Attorney Rubin, who is bringing Schepps back to the city, has sent word that the prisoner will be a useful witness to the state.

May Talk to Rose.

The public prosecutor has issued orders that no one be permitted to talk to Schepps on his arrival. This order will not apply to Rose, Vallon and Webber. Rose is very anxious to talk with Schepps, saying that afterward he is sure that Schepps will be willing to tell all he knows. Schepps and Rose are close friends.

Corporation Counsel Watson late last night announced the appointment of William McMurrie as special counsel to represent the city in the Rosenthal investigation into police conditions. In a long letter to Mr. Eber the lawyer is enjoined to cooperate cheerfully with the aldermanic committee.

"Spare nobody," the letter continues. "Pursue relentlessly, and seize with rough hand what you bring to bay. When you find a spot, burn it to the bone. When you find a bribe taker, one who has stiffled himself, find himself for a price, been faithless to his duty and his public trust, crush him, crush him. Forget mercy and moderation. Put compassion, even discretion, wholly aside. Go at it your own way—only get results."

In an address last night at a meeting of news dealers, called to protest against a new ordinance curtailing the number of street news stands, Mayor Gaynor expressed the belief that probably $1,500,000 in graft was annually collected from news dealers in the city.

Tried to Stop Graft.

"Two years ago it was called to my attention," said the Mayor, "that all over the city men and women could not get licenses for news stands without paying middlemen or Aldermen or something else. I took the matter up at once and tried to do what I could to do away with that graft. I confess I have been baffled up to now."

There are 7500 news stands. If the people pay an average of $100 each for them, and some pay $250 or $500, that is $750,000 or $1,250,000. It is never twice that. This has been going on a long time, and I wrote the Board of Aldermen and asked them to stop it by allowing the Mayor to issue licenses through his own bureau without having to have an Alderman's endorsement."

Merchants Protest.

At a meeting of the Council Committee on Finance last night a protest was received from Broad Street merchants against the new ordinance. The protest was signed by Messrs. Murphy, H. B. Pyle, and others. It was stated that the ordinance would deprive them of a business worth $100,000 a year. The committee adjourned to next Monday night.

make the Republican party respond to the purpose for which it was born, an attempt is made at Chicago to divert it. It won't succeed. It will only disturb the surface of things a little. The Republican party was born to make all men equal, and that is all that lies back of the movement of the true progressives."

Taft Vetoes Sustained.

Washington, August 16.—The Senate today voted to sustain the veto of the President on the wool and metal tariff revision bills. On the metal bill the motion to override the President did not even obtain a majority. On neither measure did the vote approach the necessary two-thirds.

Senator Simmons called up the metal bill, which was first disposed of. Without debate roll call vote was taken, and thirty-two Senators voted in favor of overriding the veto. Thirty-eight voted against passing the bill. No Republicans voted to pass the bill.

Senator La Follette made the motion to re-pass the wool bill. He asserted that this bill was a protective tariff measure and was framed according to the Tariff Board's report on the wool industry. Senator La Follette asserted that the failure of the President to accept the "judgment of Congress" was a usurpation of power.

Senator Hatch denounced the bill as a Democratic measure. When the vote finally was taken, thirty-nine Senators voted in favor of passing the bill and thirty-six against it. The following Republicans voted with the Democrats: Brewster, Clark, Crawford, La Follette, Poindexter and Works.

MARRIAGE IS RESULT OF RAPID-FIRE COURTSHIP

Harrisonburg, Va., August 16.—Following a two weeks acquaintance and rapid-fire courtship, Miss Ada Monahan, daughter of David Monahan, Shenandoah County, and Jeremiah Harnsberger, a wealthy farmer of Lake View, Mich., were married here yesterday by Rev. O. E. Cook, of the Baptist Church. The groom is sixty years old and the bride is only twenty-two. After a sojourn at Orange Springs they will leave for their home in Michigan. Mr. Harnsberger is a native of Rockingham County, and has two grown children in the West older than his bride.

Street Cleaners Get Furlough.

All employees of the Street Cleaning Department were granted a furlough of one week by the Council Committee on Street Cleaning last night. With full pay the vacation to be designated by the superintendent as he saw fit to interfere with the city service. This is the first year that day laborers on a per diem basis have been granted a week's summer vacation with pay. The action was unanimous and followed similar action in regard to the employees of the Gas and Water Departments.

New Water Trough.

At a brief meeting of the Ordinance, Charter and Reform Committee last night, the subject was discussed, and the committee reached final agreement after recommending an ordinance requiring the handling of dynamite and other explosives.

The Committee on Water accepted a water trough dedicated by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and ordered it installed on Marshall Street, near Harrison Street, where there is much heavy hauling.

COLTS WIN OUT AFTER BAD START

appear as if another powerful box was to pass. Griffin, however, was walked, Carter got on the same way, which filled two corners. Graft was hit on the hand, filling all of the corners, and really being the man upon whom it all depended, made a name for himself and justified his being moved to the cleanup station, by pounding over Biggles head for a sure double, scoring Carter and Griffin. With a chance to go far in the lead, Burke looted to centre.

Raley Again to Rescue.

An infield lap which Graft beat out and again Raley's double furnished the winning tally. Strange to say, it was in but three innings that Gaston gave the locals an opportunity to count. But still stranger, with the exception of the first, every opportunity offered was taken advantage of. John Raley did himself proud, his record for the day was three hits out of four tries, two of them being for extra bases and both helping to win. His fourth appearance at the plate, he hit to Blaine, and only the closest kind of a decision called him out.

Dodge Whole Visiting Show.

As the Norfolk infield walked to the centre in the first session he presented a noble appearance. Blonde of hair, stout of frame and pleading of mien, the combination looked formidable enough to scare all. Dodge is the man, of course, and he comes mighty near being an entire infield. He had eleven chances yesterday, ten of which he took care of, bunting only one, and they were all good, hard tries.

Gaston lost a tough game. He was hit safely only five times, while Ayers allowed himself to get in trouble frequently and was hit safely eight times. All the breaks were against Gaston, and unfortunately for him the swats came just at the right times.

It did seem as if the one-run lead would be cut down in the seventh when Biggie pried open the inning with a screaming double through Charlie Strain. Brauer followed with a sacrifice, but Gaston whiffed and Keller could hit no further than Ayers. After Brauer had hit safely to centre in the ninth, Kitcher substituted Gordon to bat for Gaston, but he was fooled and again Keller won easy, the last time for Carter. Also Umpire O'Brien did very good work. The score:

COURT CLERKS END ANNUAL SESSION

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Bristol, Va., August 16.—The Virginia Court Clerks' Association adjourned this morning after transacting a few routine matters. The executive committee will later determine where the next annual meeting will be held. The association members were held in their praise of the generous hospitality shown them by the people of Bristol. Many compliments were paid the retiring president, John Gese, whose efforts contributed largely to the success of the entertainment.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

By Gus Malbert.

No better illustration of the value of opportunity rather than profile hit or timing could be had than the game yesterday. Ayers was hit considerably harder and oftener than Gaston, yet he won his game. Omitting the first inning from consideration, Ayers did the better work, but he got away to such a poor start that ordinarily he would have lost. Gaston, on the other hand, suffered every time he made a break. The two runs which tied the game and allowed the Colts an opportunity to win, were started by walks and a hit batsman. And after two more runs gone. Then followed Raley's tap.

Charlie Strain, after pulling an off-color play in the first, in not throwing to get Keller at the plate on Dodge's hit, more than made up for it during the remainder of the game. His catch of Keller's fly by a one-hand stab in the third, was a remarkable bit of fielding. In all he had seven chances and took them all in with the air of a veteran.

O'Brien had several close decisions, and, as luck would have it, they were all against the Colts, a bad condition, especially in a close game with the home team struggling for the top of the race. In only one instance, however, is there good reason to believe he erred. Carter, in the first, appeared safe after his bunt which advanced Griffin. The ball was hit to Biggie, who made an effort to touch Carter. He evidently failed, for he started then and there to race for the bag with Carter, who slid, and, from the press box, looked safe. The other decisions, those at third base and on Raley in the eighth, were close, but happened so that only the ump's was in a position to see clearly.

Two games to-day, with Strain and Griffin slated to go the distance. If Jack Grim can get any life into his club and trounce the Goobers, if only once, and we win both—but these dreams have been dreamed before, so let's wait.

Stanley Higbie announces this as his farewell year in professional baseball. Next year he expects to accept a job with the American Locomotive Company in the local works, where he will take an active interest in athletics. Humor has it that a semi-pro league will be formed in the city, with two teams from the Locomotive Works, and four more from other places.

Three games a week are contemplated. Frank Biggie, brother of Stanley, is already an employee of the Alco people.

Steve Griffin announces the discontinuance of "Boys' Day." The youngsters on Thursday ran across the field continually, which made the progress of the game slow. Again the white background in centerfield, caused by the white blouses of the youngsters, fer-

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

By Gus Malbert.

As has been remarked before, it may be merely a coincidence, but ever since Morgan has been out of the game with Washington, that club has lost. Since he has been back, two days, the club has won, and no small part of the victory was due to Morgan's efforts. It is still hard to conceive why Griffith broke practically all of his games. It may have cost him a pennant.

Commenting on the kind of game the fan likes, Grandland Rice, is of the opinion that the fan wants rowdiness, less wrangling and faster work on the part of ball players. He gives it as his opinion that the audience wants a scrappy game only as between team and team, but that no audience wants to see eighteen men fighting and cursing at one man, meaning the umpire. He further believes that if the Baseball Protective Association is on the level it should take cognizance of this, and suggests that a rule be enacted that any player, excepting the manager of the team, cursing an umpire, or speaking to him at all be fined and suspended. It might be a radical change, but it would be effective in doing away with many ugly incidents of the game.

The Giants came back at the "ever-less" Cubs yesterday, increasing their lead again to six games. Teseau was the fellow to turn the trick, while the Giants lambasted four of Chance Murphy's gunners.

One game nearer was the result in the American League, Boston lost and the Athletics won. The show isn't over yet by any means, and Connie Mack may again wear the toga.

NEGRO IS CAUGHT IN ACT OF RUBBING POST-OFFICE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Harrisonburg, Va., August 16.—Late last night Ellis Bell, a negro, was caught in the act of trying to rob the post-office at Groton, Va., Rockingham County. I. Smaltz, while passing the building, heard a voice inside the office. Calling Charles Reynolds and C. A. Randolph, he went inside and captured the negro before he had had time to make away with any stamps or money. The negro was kept confined in Bell's store all night and to-day was brought to Harrisonburg for trial before United States Commissioner D. O. J. West. He will be sent to the United States grand jury.
